Counting the Cost

“Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after me cannot be my disciple. For which of you, desiring to build a tower, does not first sit down and count the cost, whether he has enough to complete it?” Luke 14:27-28

At 6pm, on Sunday, January 22nd the Building Committee of First Baptist Church presented one and a half years of hard work, prayerful discernment and professionally developed building plans to a full sanctuary. The first half hour of the meeting was reserved for the annual report. The next hour and a half was spent laying out, in detail, the findings of the Building Committee. Steve Struble began by sharing the original intent of the building committee, which was to discover, objectively, what the needs of the church are, and the possible solutions to meeting those needs. I spent a few minutes talking about the history of First Baptist and our heritage of taking leaps of faith to move locations, and add building space as our church as continued to grow over the years. I also projected our growth potential for the future. From 2007 till now we've grown by 80%. We've grown by an average of 7.25% per year. We've grown from a congregation of 190 to over 350. If we continue to reach our county for Christ like we have for the last decade we could see over 600 people at First Baptist in the next ten years. I spelled out the space restrictions we are already facing for the adults and teenagers in virtually every aspect of our current building. Mollie then continued to outline the space restrictions and overwhelming need for the children's ministry. Kevin Ricke then unveiled the building proposal that was unanimously approved by the Building Committee, which is primarily a new sanctuary with a 500 seat capacity, with additional classroom space, and an expansive remodel of the current spaces, which provides dedicated space for children, youth, adults, and offices. There was a good-natured discussion, with a lot of questions asked and answered. By God's grace we voted unanimously to proceed. The proposal that we voted for was to secure professional consultation to begin a capital campaign. The question is not, "should we build?", but rather, "can we afford to build?". My sense, from the meeting, and all the discussions I've had since the meeting, is that our church believes God will provide the 3.5 million dollars it will take to accomplish this grand vision. We simply need to trust Him and be faithful to do what He is calling us to do. What God is calling us to do is to proclaim His Word to our community, and grow disciples. The church building enables us to do this to the utmost of our ability and to the glory of Christ. So, for the month of February, as we research and discern who God might bring to our church to help us count the cost financially, we are planning on a prayer meeting on Sunday the 19th at 7pm. We invite the whole church to join together to pray for God's Spirit to be poured out in power, giving us wisdom and strength, revealing His plan, and releasing His resources for the future of our church. I invite each Sunday school class to spend some time at the start of their class praying together for the building project, and for everyone to join together Sunday February 19th at 7pm, and also to be in unceasing prayer for all that God has in mind as we trust Him together. In Christ, Pastor Luke

Collide Youth Ministry

There's this student who has really come alive recently. A couple of months ago he came to youth group, mostly to be with friends and, from what I understood, to see a certain girl. I could tell he seemed distant, guarded, angry and hurting. He just kind of sat in the back and didn't talk to anyone. One of our small group leaders reached out to him and shared his phone number with the student. Later that night the student reached out and shared his struggles- how far he was from God and how he probably didn't even really belong at a place like Collide, because of the things he was doing in his life. This small group leader shared the love and hope of Christ with this student and of how we would be there to support him as a youth ministry. I followed up with the student as well to encourage him and let him know we very much valued him being with us and would accept him for where he was in life.

After that day, something softened about him. He could tell we meant it when we said we were there for him and that we genuinely cared about him as a person. I love those moments when I see a student's demeanor change. It brings me such joy to see them soften their hearts and start to let us in. Since this small group leader shared Christ's love with this student, he has been to youth group every week and he's no longer coming just for the girls. I can tell; he's coming to get to know Jesus. I can see a true difference in him, it's like he trusts us and feels safe with us. He's so talkative. I had no idea how talkative and light-hearted he was until recently.

Pray this student would continue to pursue Jesus. If he hasn't already, pray he would embrace Christ as Lord and Savior. Ask God to continue to chip away at the hardness of his heart. Ask God to bring healing in this young man's life. Pray God would grow our youth ministry in love for one another and for our students. There are so many students who desperately need to be loved. Ask God to help us create an atmosphere of love for students, in Jesus name.

Kids Club Ministry ~ February News

At the end of October our family welcomed a new addition in the form of a hyper, fun-loving dog named Tyke. While it's been a little bit of an adjustment for both him and us, he's added an extra dose of joy to our home. The thing about Tyke is because he can't talk to us (though I wish he could at times) he automatically puts himself into a position to receive blessings throughout the day. An example of this, is when I start preparing food at the kitchen counter, he puts himself right under me so that he can catch whatever happens to fall from the counter. He does this faster than fast and just waits there patiently for an accidental morsel of food. While this isn't always ideal as I work around him under my feet, it reminds me of how we should be with God when we want to be blessed. Psalm 128:1 says, "Blessed are all who fear the LORD, who walk in obedience to him." When Tyke wants food, to play, or to cuddle, he goes right to the source and waits patiently for an answer.

What does this mean for us humans when we want to be blessed by God? We need to put ourselves into position for his blessing and not waste any time doing it! We need to seek God out in prayer, trust that He know best, and obey him without making excuses. If we truly believe that God knows best, we should obey his prompting and leading in our lives.

As we begin the New Year, take time to ask God what areas you need to give to him and expect many blessings to pour out on you in the months to come. Thanks for reading! ~Mollie

Dear Church Family & Friends,
Bill passed away suddenly and unexpectedly while on vacation on January 11th. We would like to say thank you to the church family and friends for your support with prayers, memorial donations, cards, food and phone calls.

Thank you to Pastor Luke for your part in the funeral and all your past hospital visits. Thank you to the hospitality committee ladies for serving the lunch. All of your prayers bring us comfort. God Bless you.

Arlene, Daryl, Mary and Patsy Bewley & families

Wanted to thank you for your generous donation to One Eighty. There is no question that we would not be able to do all the things we do in the community without the help of people like yourself. Thank you for making 2016 a wonderful success for us and we look forward to an even better 2017! Also, I very much enjoyed the service Sunday morning.

~Rusty Boruff

I want to thank you for the Christmas plate, it was big and I enjoyed it. Also to Seth and kids for coming out. Pastor Luke for his monthly prayers.

Thank you.
Marge Goding

The churches of Mercer County Food Pantry would like to thank your church and congregation for all of your support in 2016, money, food items and volunteers at the food pantry. It was all very much appreciated. May God bless you all!

Dear Joy Circle:

We just wanted to say thank you from our hearts for your gift. We never expected that, we feel so blessed to have even been in your thoughts and to know we have prayer support during our rough times. So this gift was such a blessing! Our microwave went out literally the weekend we got the money, so the Lord provides. We truly appreciate your love and prayers and knowing I can reach out to good friends when I need prayers and guidance. Thank you again.

Sincerely, Brook & John Welch

Join Us for Prayer Meeting!

Everyone is invited to join us Sunday, Feb. 19th at 7pm in the sanctuary at First Baptist. Come join us as we pray about the new building project.

A note from Pastor Seth

Out of the Mouth of Babes Mark 10:13-16

After our church business meeting, my children were questioning my wife as to what was happening upstairs. My wife began to explain to my children that we were discussing a new church option. We talked about money needed to buy a bigger building that could hold more people. We talked about how other kids could come and hear about Jesus and other adults could fit into the sanctuary to hear about Jesus. Without skipping a beat my kids were all in to help. Natalie said she could go pick up sticks in the yard for money and give it to the new church. She said that she could start walking dogs for money and then give to the new church. Jadon said we could have his money jar in his room for the new church. This was a wonderful blessing to my heart to hear them but it was also followed by a conviction or slight jealousy. They only heard the results of what we wanted to do as a church they did not hear a price tag. They simply were ready to do what their little hands could do, just to make this happen. I desire such a vision found in these little hearts. A simple vision of stepping in to what we can do.

Lord, I pray that we could be that Church. Help us to be all in on what is in front of us and what we can do. Help us to catch this vision and simply to do what we can as our part. Thank you that it's not about our pocket book but it's about our heart attitude to jump in and play a role. Help us to see and hear the echo through eternity as souls are changed and moved into your kingdom. In Jesus Name, Amen. ~ Seth
